Air firm 'in cover-up to frame Alps crash co-pilot'

FRIENDS of killer pilot Andreas Lubitz claim he is being framed for murder as part of an elaborate cover-up by his airline company to hide mechanical faults with the plane.

They have set up a Facebook page called 'Andreas Lubitz A320, we are against the hunt' where they have been sharing their theories about the cause of last week's Alps air disaster.

Some say the black box voice recorder had been tampered with by Germanwings parent company, Lufthansa, to make it appear as if Lubitz had deliberately crashed the plane.

Blurred

Meanwhile, it has emerged that Lubitz's home that he shared with his girlfriend in Dusseldorf has been blurred out on Google Maps in an apparent attempt by family to quell frenetic focus on his life.

Data extracted from the voice recorder last week revealed how senior pilot Patrick Sondheimer tried to smash the cockpit door down after being locked out by his colleague.

Prosecutors said Lubitz then proceeded to set the plane on a collision course with the mountain, killing all 150 people on board.

Now commentators allege the recordings were manufactured in some way by Lufthansa to hide mechanical problems with the plane, according to a report by Vocativ.

Hundreds of its followers are from the pilot's home of Montabaur in Germany and its surrounding area.

JOEY ESSEX TRIES HIS BEST TO DO POLITICS...

BEST BUDDS: Joey and Clegg and (below) at No.10

Are you Nick Legg of the Liberal Demo-CATS?

NO LEGG TO STAND ON: Nick admits he can never be our PM

REALITY TV star Joey Essex has labelled Nick Clegg's five-year stint as Deputy Prime Minister as "sick" - while learning he does not lead the "Liberal Demo-cats".

The former TOWIE hunk also said he initially thought he was meeting "Mr Legg" and praised the DPM as a "nice bloke" who was honest for saying he would not win the general election.

Essex, who shot to fame in The Only Way Is Essex, questioned Mr Clegg about how he "teamed up" with David Cameron for the Coalition and why people should vote for him - but also about his party's name.

By RICHARD WHEELER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

As Mr Clegg thought how best to explain, Essex added: "It's a long word, innit? Two words."

The DPM said: "There used to be a Liberal Party and then the Social Democrats and they got together."

Essex replied: "I was wondering that. I thought it was quite a weird word - it's got 'cats' in it. What's the 'cats' about?"

Mr Clegg, laughing, said: "It's not 'cats', it's 'crats'."

Essex said: "Oh it's 'crats'? I thought it was Liberal Demo-cats."

Mr Clegg told Essex: "You can call it demo-cats if you like but I'll stick with democrats."

Essex added: "Oh wicked. Obviously you basically rule this country right, a little bit?"

Mixture

Mr Clegg replied that he had been DPM for five years, to which Essex said: "Sick."

Essex also joked: "I sort of rule Essex. I was going to say, someone else will be Prime Minister next? Are you going to be Prime Minister?"

Mr Clegg said: "I'd love to be Prime Minister but I don't think I'm going to win this election outright but I do actually think, a bit like the last, there will be a debate about which mixture of parties will govern the country and run it well next time round."

Essex interviewed the Liberal Democrat leader following a central London press conference as he filmed a political special of his ITV2 show Educating Joey Essex.

He told Mr Clegg: "I don't really know much about all the politics world - this is only like my second day doing it - but I mean, at the moment, to me, everyone seems to just want to win."

"They ain't going to put themselves down

- well, some people will be honest with themselves - but I think everyone is fighting for the same position."

"I don't really get it. Well, you've taught me about Liberal Democrats and at least I know the name now."

After the interview, Essex asked Mr Clegg for a selfie photo.

Speaking to the Press Association, Essex said he will also be meeting David Cameron and Labour leader Ed Miliband.

He added: "I'm excited about that - David Cameron is the Prime Minister. But to be fair, to me, they are all prime ministers."

"They're all on TV, they're all doing good things."

Stars hit by Tidal wave of criticism

TIDAL, the relaunched music service backed by rapper Jay Z and other music celebs, has been slammed for trying to make more money from the public for its wealthy artists.

The New York star, who bought Tidal last year as part of Swedish technology company Aspiro for more than $50 million (£33.8m), is said to be worth more than $500m (£330m).

Tidal is co-owned and has been invested in by a host of wealthy musicians, including Coldplay's Chris Martin and Madonna (below), and the group says they want to "forever change music in history". However Tidal's model has been met with fierce criticism online, with many taking to social media to voice their frustration at those involved making the launch sound like some sort of campaign for social justice.

One Twitter user Daniel Paul Baptista (@dbapz) wrote: "I legit thought #TIDALforALL was some sort of save the world campaign, not a streaming service to make millionaire artists richer."

Others quoted the reported multi-million dollar fortunes of the star investors and asked if they should be portraying themselves as "struggling".

Miliband: Make next 007 woman

ED Miliband says would like the next James Bond to be a woman and called for the franchise to "move with the times".

The Labour leader picked former Bond girl Rosamund Pike - whose character Miranda Frost died in the 2002 film Die Another Day - to take on the role.

During a visit to Magic Radio studios, he said: "I think she's a great British actress, she'd make a great Bond."

"This is 2015, I think we can move with the times."

Miliband also admitted he would not win a "photo opportunity contest", but said the election should not be about that.

He said: "If this is a contest to see how someone can eat a bacon sandwich elegantly, I'm not going to win."

1D 'anger' over Zayn solo debut

EX One Direction star Zayn Malik has made his solo debut just days after quitting the band after a demo of one of his new songs popped up online.

The track, called I Won't Mind, which features him singing over an acoustic guitar, was posted by producer Naughty Boy, sparking an angry reaction from Malik's ex bandmate Louis Tomlinson.

Musician Naughty Boy, who has worked with Emile Sande, told fans: "Let the music do the talking guys. Thank us later. :) x".

But Tomlinson took to Twitter, telling him: "Wow @NaughtyBoy Music you're so inconsiderate pal, seriously how fking old are you? Grow up!"

Tomlinson then told fans "Always have struggled to bite my tongue."

The boyband, who were put together after entering The X Factor as solo acts, have spoken out to quash rumours that they are set to split up in the wake of Malik's departure.

Pam splits over 'crap' sex life!

BUSTY actress Pamela Anderson divorced her ex-husband because she was "bored with him sexually".

The Baywatch star reportedly sent an email to Rick Salomon in February explaining her decision to break up.

And she apparently told the professional poker player that he was CRAP in bed... and that his dog STINKS!

The 47-year-old wrote: "We are not compatible sexually. I am frustrated and bored."

"And I am getting two puppies and starting fresh."

This is the THIRD time the couple have ended their relationship, having previously married in October 2007.

Salomon is most famous for his leaked sex tape with reality TV star Paris Hilton, released in 2004.

STRAIGHT TALKING

FROM UKIP'S DEPUTY LEADER

There's no defence for ludicrous aid spending

SO, the election campaign proper has started. On Monday, David Cameron went to see the Queen and dissolved parliament.

For most people it must feel it's already been going on for months. Hardly a day's gone by since January when there hasn't been some policy release or some set-piece speech.

What I'm finding when out speaking to normal folk is that people were bored rigid even before the real campaign started.

That's because Labour and the Tories have been knocking the hell out of each other for three months.

Vileness

It may be exciting for people like me who are involved, but ordinary people are turning off.

This has already been the longest campaign in British political history and I'm sure most people will be wishing it's a one-off.

But I've got bad news for you – it's the future.

Both Labour and the Tories have brought in foreign political 'gurus' to run their campaigns and this is another case of the American way of doing things.

Expect a negative campaign and vileness like you have never witnessed before.

Welcome to the new politics. I promise you won't like it.

I DON'T think anyone in their right mind would deny the world is a pretty unstable place at the moment.

Ukraine is in the middle of a brutal civil war and the so-called Islamic State killers are butchering their way through Syria and Iraq.

The danger is also closer to home. Vladimir Putin is flying Russian war planes up the English Channel, and over 500 of our own homegrown wannabe jihadists have run off to Syria to fight with ISIS.

So you'd think defence would be pretty far up the government's priorities list, wouldn't you? After all, the first duty of any government is to protect its own citizens.

But you'd be wrong. The Coalition government is refusing to rule out defence cuts over the next five years.

The defence budget as it stands is just over £40 billion per annum, but this is significantly less in real terms than it was 20 years ago.

We also have a commitment to NATO to ensure we spend two per cent of our total GDP on defence, but we will fail to meet this commitment for the first time if there are further cuts.

There has been a massive downsizing of our armed forces over the past 50 years.

Our Royal Navy is now smaller than it has ever been since the days of the Napoleonic wars – and we now have as many people in jail in this country as we do in the army!

If we continue this downward trend, and if some of the right-on metropolitan brigade get their way, we will be spending more on foreign aid in the coming years than on the protection of our own citizens.

What's even more obscene is that we've been handing over our hard-earned cash in foreign aid to countries that have bigger armed forces than our own.

The Chinese spend well over £75 billion on their armed forces, and have nearly three million active soldiers in the People's Liberation Army alone – yet in 2013 we handed over £27 million of taxpayers' money to them in foreign aid.

The Indian Navy has over 180 ships against our mere 77. They have two aircraft carriers, yet we have none. The head of India's fleet until 2013 was actually Britain's old aircraft carrier, Hermes (pictured).

Yet we have handed more than £200 million in foreign aid to India over past three years alone.

Finally, we provide Turkey with foreign aid via the European Union to the tune of at least £80 million a year, yet it has a standing land force of 315,000 – that's more than three times the size of our own.

This is a ludicrous situation at best. At worst, I would go as far as to say that reducing our defence commitments is both an insult and a dereliction of duty to the British people.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM

THIS WEEK?

Vote of no confidence for millionaire celeb luvvies

IF you were about to go in for major heart surgery, how happy would you be to learn that your surgeon for the day was RUSSELL BRAND?

You might rate the man as a comedian – if you've taken complete leave of your senses, that is – but would you be content to have him scooping around your open chest with a scalpel while saying "paradigm" over and over again?

No, nor me. So if you accept old Rusty Rockets is vastly underqualified to perform surgery on your tucker, surely the same could be said for allowing him any access to your brain?

It being election time officially now, celebrities are queuing up to tell you how to vote – or not – as if they are in any way qualified to do so.

For reasons best known only to them, having sung a song or spoken other people's words in a movie in some mysterious way makes these people the grand political sages of our time. Brand of course has been doing this for ages – he has got a book to sell, after all – as in other ways have the likes of Bono, Sting and Bob Geldof.

And the latest is Martin Freeman – that little fella from The Office, The Hobbit and Sherlock.

Now, I'm quite a fan of Mr Freeman the actor. Great performer, fabulous comic touch, classic everyman, always delivers, never made a bad film etc.

But why he would deem to advise us on who to vote for is quite beyond me.

Mr Freeman wants us to vote Labour. We know this because he appears in the latest Labour Party advert.

In it, he says: "I don't know about you, but my values are about community."

"The bottom line is what values are we choosing, because in the end this choice we make really does matter."

As reported by the political blogger Guido Fawkes, the actor adds that Labour "start from the right place – community, compassion, fairness – I think all the best things about this country".

Which all sounds fair enough, doesn't it? Especially "fairness".

Except fairness didn't really come into it when his missus and mother of his two kids was presented with a £120,000 tax bill two years ago.

Mr Freeman (right), it should be noted, is estimated to be worth around £10 million.

But rather than crack open one of his money barns and cough up into the nation's communal coffers on her behalf, he instead watched the woman who shares his bed declare herself bankrupt.

As Guido also reports on order-order.com: "The 'values' that Freeman chooses encompass sending his young son to the elite Lochinver House School in Potters Bar for the compassionate sum of £12,669 per year."

So here we have yet another multi-millionaire luvvie telling us how to live even if it's in a manner a zillion miles away from their privileged own.

How many nurses would that £120,000 have paid for? That's the trouble with showbiz celebs, you see. They're simply always on show.

Emilia's wee drink problem in rainforest

SILENT Witness babe Emilia Fox has revealed how she made herself drink a pint of wee-wee!

The 40-year-old actress starred in ITV reality show Bear Grylls: Mission Survive where she was forced to live in a Costa Rican rainforest.

And as a challenge for the show the sexy Merlin babe (above) had to down her own TINKLE.

Describing her mental preparation for the rank drink she said: "It was mind over matter. I pretended I was downing a pint in a pub, which would have been a challenge for me too."

"And I didn't breathe through my nose until the taste subsided."

"I knew Bear Grylls was famous for drinking wee so I expected it and made sure I drank loads of water first."

"Afterwards I got a tweet saying, 'Why are you drinking wee in a rainforest when there's so much water around?'"

"It's a fair point – but try telling Bear Grylls that!"

Damages for sex assault immigrant

AN illegal immigrant convicted of "revolting" sex offences is to receive damages after a judge concluded he was illegally detained by Home Office officials for seven months.

Iranian Naseer Chawki, 34, won a High Court fight with Home Secretary Theresa May following a hearing in London.

Deputy High Court Judge Stephen Morris said the size of the payout for Chawki would be assessed, and gave no indication what the figure would be.

Chawki, who had failed in a bid to claim asylum, claimed that he was held in immigration detention when then was "no prospect" of him being deported, so his detention had been unlawful.

In November 2008 he was given a three-year jail term after being convicted of two sex assaults and possessing a false ID.

GLAMOUR BABE QUILTS MODELLING

GORGEOUS Sophie Reade has announced: "I will NEVER go topless again!"

The bra-busting 30GG beauty regularly appeared in Midweek Sport, but has now retired from the world of glamour modelling.

The 25-year-old shot to fame as the winner of Channel 5's Big Brother back in 2009.

She later posed topless for several lads' mags and newspapers, and briefly dated Liverpool footballer Mario Balotelli.

Sophie, from Crewe, Cheshire, is now living with her family and 19-month-old son, Walter.

Destructive

She said: "I went into the Big Brother house for a bit of fun. I'd done some glamour modelling work and thought it might be good for my career."

"But now I know who my real friends are – and how destructive my party lifestyle was."

"I'm in the best shape ever and I go to the gym six times a week – I'd love a career in the fitness industry."

"I'll never go back to my wild ways, but I have no regrets. My past has made me who I am today."

She told pals: "It can be a laugh to begin with, but then some of them take it too far."

"There is one guy who is

But fans weren't that impressed with Kelly's rant against the snappas.

One told her: "How many pics of Kelly are taken by the paps where she is happily posing for them? 98%? She plays the system."

And another fan added: "She needs those paps!"

UK'S BIGGEST BLOW JOBS!

HURRICANE-strength winds brought travel chaos to Britain yesterday – with roads and bridges closed across the country.

Fallen trees blocked railway lines, and busy road-bridge routes had to be closed, including the Dartford Crossing QEII Bridge on the M25, the Ouse Bridge on the M62 and the M48 Severn Bridge.

In East Yorkshire, the Humber Bridge was closed COMPLETELY after a lorry overturned in high winds.

Further upstream from the Humber Bridge, a carriageway of the M62 on the Ouse Bridge was also closed after a caravan was blown off a trailer and left teetering over the edge of the bridge.

Trains were also affected, with speed restrictions on the main west coast line and falling trees blocking lines in the West Country. Services in East Anglia and in and out of London were also delayed.

One worker at Fawley oil refinery, Hants, leapt into storm-tossed seas to rescue a man trapped in the sinking tugboat, Asterix.

In London, a river-based promotional event for the new Thunderbirds TV show was cancelled due to high winds on the River Thames.

And metmen say there's more to come – with SNOW forecast for today (Wednesday), the first day of April.

Met Office forecaster Kirk Waite said that looking forward to Easter, the weekend will be breezy to begin with but things should "gradually quieten down".

JANE DANSON*EVA LONGORIA

BUT ON THE PLUS SIDE...

BLUSTERY weather is GUST the job when it comes to cheeky celebrity KNICKER flashing!

Britain is currently being battered by gales as stormy winds reach 70mph in parts of the country. And God surely loves a good gusset gawp, as he lets forth a series of squalls to uproot both trees and showbiz SKIRTS!

Countless female lovelies have fallen foul of a cheeky updraft down the years.

The latest casualty was Saturday Night Takeaway babe Ashley Roberts. The blonde, 33, revealed her pants to co-star Ant McPartlin, 29, while watching the nags at Royal Ascot at the weekend.

The former Pussycat Dolls Singer wrote on Twitter: "This wind... Seriously... Not my amigo."

Arse-cheeks

The conditions take no prisoners when it comes to A-listers either.

Back in 2011 Desperate Housewives beauty Eva Longoria, 40, aired her arse-cheeks in Los Angeles, while Kylie Minogue, 46, got a blast in London in 2014.

Brunette beauty Jenny Thompson is no stranger to stormy scandals. The 26-year-old former high class hooker, who once bedded Wayne Rooney, bared her buttock thanks to windy conditions in 2011.

Meanwhile, TOWIE babe Lauren Pope, 32, proved you can't escape crappy weather wherever you go - having accidentally showcased her derriere while filming the ITV2 show in sunny Ibiza.

Here are some other star babes who have been caught out with the wind...

Depp finger horror halts Pirates flick

FILMING on the brand new Pirates of the Caribbean movie has been delayed after star Johnny Depp suffered a hand injury.

The 51-year-old actor flew back to the US for surgery earlier this month after the accident in Australia, where he was filming the FIFTH movie in the swashbuckling series.

Shooting was originally expected to be delayed for two weeks after producers said that the injury would have a "minimal impact" on the shoot in Australia's Gold Coast.

But after it was discovered that Depp, who plays Captain Jack Sparrow in the movies, needed a pin inserted in a finger, it has now been extended to at least four weeks - to around April 15 - The Hollywood Reporter says.

A spokesman told the publication that filming depended on Depp's recuperation.

Pirates Of The Caribbean: Dead Men Tell No Tales also stars Javier Bardem and Orlando Bloom and is still expected to be released in July 2017.

TOWIE Jake's a football pro

TOWIE star Jake Hall has signed for a professional football team.

The 24-year-old joined the ITV scripted reality television show prior to the start of the new series earlier this month.

And has now signed a permanent deal with Lincolnshire Conference North side Boston United.

"The aim is to get into the play-offs and get in to the Conference," the midfielder (above) said.

Boston commercial manager Craig Singleton told BBC Sport: "It's most definitely not a publicity stunt. He will give the manager some good options for the rest of the season."

Hall has played for several non-league clubs including Grays Athletic, Bromley and Billericay, as well as Boston, who are currently fifth in the Conference North table.

GET the paddling pool and baby oil out!

Because Hollywood hotties Chloe Sevigny and Jennifer Lawrence are heading for a cat fight!

Sexy Zodiac and American Horror Story star Chloe, 40, has slammed Oscar winner Jen, 24, calling her "crass" and "annoying".

Chloe – who famously gave a real-life BLOWJOB in 2003's The Brown Bunny – also hates it when Hollywood actresses go on the telly to plug their flicks.

She moaned: "You can't be an actor without having a big personality to match. So much is about marketing and selling the product."

"They'll have a really peppy, funny girl on the talk show rounds, and everybody adores her and loves her and wants to be her or fk her."

"And then so many more people want to watch the movie or TV show."

"I understand that star quality, how much value that carries."

"I love when a movie star is a great movie star. I think Angelina Jolie is a great movie star."

"Jennifer Lawrence I find annoying. Too crass."

Madonna: I can't watch Brits fall!

POP Queen Madonna says she can't bring herself to watch the footage of her fall on stage while performing at the Brit Awards.

The Material Girl singer said it was a "miracle" she did not hurt herself when she tumbled off a set of stairs after a cape she was wearing was pulled by a dancer.

Madge, 56, told DJ Jo Wiley on her Radio 2 show: "I haven't watched it back – I don't like watching me on anything."

"I hate watching myself because the experience of the actual thing that I did is never what I see."

"I'd rather have the fantasy of it in my mind, what I thought it was."

Asked if she had any plans to write an autobiography, Madonna added: "I'm sure I will one day. I've got so many tales to tell. If I wrote my book, that would be from start to finish. And that's a whole lot of ground to cover."

"I think I would tell the stories that I felt were valuable to tell, that were inspiring."

Drug cops in 'wild orgies'

TOP drug cops attended wild SEX PARTIES laid-on by smuggling barons, according to official documents.

The orgies were attended by agents of America's Drug Enforcement Administration, according to a new Inspector general report released by the Justice Department.

It says Colombian cops even looked after the DEA agents' GUNS while they went off with hookers.

So far, 10 DEA agents have admitted the indiscretion while others received suspensions of two to 10 days.

Now the congressional committee charged with federal oversight wants to perform their own investigation into the allegations.

LESBIANS SPLASH £13K ON VIKING SPUNK

BALLBAG BULK BUY:
 Kelly and Anna blew a load on Danish sperm

A LESBIAN couple have spent £13,000 on fertility treatment and mail order Danish semen – so that their child will look like a VIKING.

Married Kelly and Anna Cooke, both 34, had jizz sent from Denmark as they want a child to have blonde hair and blue eyes just like them.

The £300-a-time vials arrived in the post, but after DIY insemination at home failed they forked out for IVF using samples from the same Danish sperm bank.

They used Kelly's eggs and Anna carried the child so they both had an input into the pregnancy.

After a heartbreaking miscarriage Anna is now five months pregnant and due to give birth in July.

By BEN CUSACK
 news@sundaysport.co.uk

Kelly said: "Danish sperm is the best in the world and such high quality. "British sperm is more than double the price and just doesn't cut the mustard."

Man-muck

"At least with a Dane we knew our baby would be attractive and blonde."

I suppose he would look a bit like a Viking, but we want our son to look like us."

The pair, who got legally wed in February, ordered their Danish man-muck from Cryos International, the world's largest sperm bank.

They bought 10 vials of the baby gravy and blew £10,000 on the fertility treatment.

Anna is due to give birth on July 23 but the couple, from Camberley, Surrey, want to keep the sex of their fair-haired baby secret for the time being.

Thrilled chef Anna, who dyes her hair brown, said: "We are just so pleased that after spending £13,000 we finally have a little one on the way."

"It doesn't matter that we have rinsed our savings and scrimped and saved for years to get where we are."

Kelly added: "With my eggs and Anna carrying the baby, he or she really is ours and we couldn't be happier."

Mark's Funk is biggest seller

MARK Ronson's Uptown Funk is the biggest selling single of the year so far – with more than a million copies shifted since January 1.

Data from the Official Charts Company shows the song, which featured Bruno Mars on vocals, is ahead of other efforts from Ellie Goulding and Hozier.

The track, which topped the charts, has sold more than 810,000 copies and been streamed more than 26 million times – giving it a combined chart sales tally of more than a million.

The second best seller is Ellie Goulding's Love Me Like You Do, from hit film Fifty Shades Of Grey, which had combined sales of more than 725,000.

Not right Guy for Top Gear

SPEED freak Guy Martin has once again distanced himself from the vacant Top Gear presenter's job.

Last week our sister paper Weekend Sport exclusively revealed how IT racer Guy (above) would prefer to keep his day job as a truck mechanic rather than join the Beeb.

And now the 33-year-old has once again played-down speculation linking him with Jeremy Clarkson's former position.

Speaking to Ulster TV yesterday, the How Britain Worked host said: "I don't think I'd be able to get the time off work!"

"I don't want to try and be the man who replaced Jeremy Clarkson."

The confession will come as a blow to fans, who see Guy as a natural replacement to the outgoing presenter, owing to his love of anything with a combustion engine.

Others tipped to replace Clarkson include F1 host Suzi Perry, model and car fan Jodie Kidd and TV presenter Dermot O'Leary.

Fanny place to fall asleep

CLUNGE-LOVERS are flocking to buy a new VAGINA pillowcase.

And the anatomical drawing looks like the perfect place to lay your head after a long day at work.

The £20 accessory has been launched by website Sin In Linen - who say the pillow is also "educational".

Their blurb reads: "Time for an anatomy lesson. Can you name all the points?"

"Study with this anatomically correct vagina printed on pillowcases."

"Drift to sleep on a whispering eye."

The company also sells skull and cross bones bedsheets, sexy lady shower curtains and pirate-themed bath towels.

While they're based in America, they ship orders to the UK.

The Irish hunk has reportedly been on "secret dates" with Fm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here! stunna Amy Willerton.

Singer Niall, 21, hooked up with the former Miss Great Britain shortly before the boy band's world tour last year, sources claim.

But this is hardly the first time the heartthrob has been knee deep in celebrity CLUNGE... just check out these gorgeous babes, too!

Back in 2013, Niall dated Irish-born lingerie model Zoe Whelan, 20, for six months.

After their split, he was then romantically linked to 21-year-old Victoria's Secret beauty Barbara Palvin, from Budapest.

Niall's one-night stand with fellow pop star Ellie Goulding, 28, last summer was the inspiration for her ex-boyfriend Ed Sheeran's song, Don't.

And last month, Niall allegedly had another steamy fling with sexy Sydney blogger Melissa Whitelaw. 20.

Our top showbiz source revealed: "Everybody thinks that Harry Styles is the most prolific shagger in One Direction."

"But it's pretty obvious that N^{all} has some impressive skills with the ladies, too."

BORED OF THESE... Are you mad?

TAKE A LAST LOOK: Star plans to cover up from now on GAME Of Thrones babe Emilia Clarke reckons fans are BORED of seeing her BOOBS!

The sexy blonde, who plays perpetually-naked Daenerys Targaryen, was offered the role of Anastasia Steele in the recent Fifty Shades of Grey movie.

Regrets

But Emilia, 28, turned it down because she didn't want to go nude...again!

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

She revealed: "I'd done nudity before and was concerned with being labelled for doing it again. I've got no regrets."

The role eventually went to Dakota Johnson, 25, who is the daughter of Miami Vice legend Don.

Meanwhile London-born Emilia will next be seen in Terminator Genisys, where she plays a young Sarah Connor.

Sir Paul: I write best on the loo!

FORMER Beatle Sir Paul McCartney has revealed where he finds inspiration to finish writing some of his songs – in the TOILET.

The 72-year-old disclosed how he goes about songwriting and why he avoids penning tracks about SEX.

Talking to Q magazine about his songwriting style, Macca – who penned his first tune aged 14 – said: "The trick is to go off on your own and finish it. Go into the toilet – toilets are good."

While 'Wings' 1972 hit Hi Hi Hi was banned by the BBC for its references to sex and drugs, Sir Paul said: "Sex is something I prefer to do, rather than sing about."

"Hi Hi Hi was from a period when everybody was getting stoned and having sex. I suppose singing about sex is not really in my genre."

He added: "I can be angry but I can't find a natural way to put it into a song. It's the same with sex."

McCartney also revealed that he now believes in star signs and that he attributes his songwriting talents to the fact that he is a Gemini.

He added: "There are two sides to Gemini. And if you listen to my stuff there are two sides to some of it – Ebony and Ivory and Hello Goodbye."

5 SONGS HE MIGHT HAVE COME UP WITH: TWIST 'N' SHITE LET IT PEE LOVE ME POO BAND ON THE RUNS THE BOG CHORUS

Jess shows why she's the breast!

HERE'S why singer Jess Glynne currently tops the UK's pop charts – her smash-hit BOOBS!

The sultry beauty is at Number One with her new single Hold My Hand.

But the 25-year-old Londoner had us wanting to hold on to a different part of her anatomy as she donned a low-cut frock for a gig in the capitals G-A-Y.

Jess topped the charts twice last year – as a guest vocalist on Clean Bandit's Rather Be and Route 94's My Love.

Coogan's Happy to be filmed with a porn star!

COMIC Steve Coogan has been filmed with a PORN star.

The scene comes in new comedy show Happyish, in which he co-stars alongside legendary bongo pork swordsmen James Deen.

That's according to the Hollywood Reporter magazine, who says Deen, 29, is keen to move into mainstream entertainment.

The shagger – real name Bryan Sevilla – has starred in flicks like My Sister's First Anal 2, Eternal Passion 4 and MILFs Seeking Boys 9.

He'll play himself in Happyish, where he'll offer his advice on how to succeed in the adult-film industry and corporate America.

The show is due to premiere in America on April 26.

In it, Coogan plays a middle-aged man struggling with the pursuit of his own happiness after he finds himself working for a boss who's aged just 25.

Russkies' road plan lets Brits motor to USA

GET ready for the mother of all road trips – because the Russian's plan to build a superhighway that links Britain to the USA!

The Trans-Eurasian Belt Development would see the construction of a massive motorway across Russia.

While roads do currently run across most of the vast country, the quality of them tends to deteriorate the further you travel from Moscow.

The 12,400 mile epic would extend across the Bering Strait to Alaska thanks to a new bridge – making overland trips from Britain to the States via the Channel Tunnel real possibility.

Vladimir Fortov, the Head of the Russian Academy of Science, said the project is "very ambitious and expensive".

But he added: "It will solve many problems in the development of the vast region."

"It is connected with social programs and new fields, new energy resources, and so on."

"The idea is that, based on the new technology of high-speed rail transport, we can build a new railway near the Trans-Siberian Railway, with the opportunity to go to Chukotka and Bering Strait and then to the American continent."

JAMES MAY: TOP GEAR WILL MOTOR ON!

UNEMPLOYED:
and Jezza (below)

CAR fans celebrated yesterday after James May said Top Gear would survive after the Jeremy Clarkson affair.

The BBC1 motoring show remains in limbo after bosses axed Jeremy Clarkson following a restaurant 'fracas'.

But speaking outside his home yesterday May, 52, said: "I doubt it's the end of Top Gear."

May also said he had no idea what the future held for him.

Complicated

He added: "It's very complicated. I've got to sell my car – all sorts of things. I honestly, seriously don't know what's going to happen."

When questioned whether this was the end for Top Gear, May confidently replied: "I doubt it's the end of Top Gear."

Asked what he was planning to do with his time, the presenter answered: "I'm gonna cook a shepherd's pie and make a film for YouTube."

He's been documenting his experiences of being without a job online at #StillUnemployed while uploading videos of himself playing the recorder.

TEXT A RED HOT OLDER WOMAN TODAY! SHE'S SO UP FOR IT!

EXPERIENCE THIS!

TAKE a look...take a long, lingering look at Alice, here. Alice is one of our older girls. We'd have loved to have shown you her face and told you a lot more about her but, well, Alice is a pillar of her local community and aside from that, her husband of 32 years would not approve of her swapping sexual texts with horny strangers half her age!

Anyway, have a good look at what you can see...pretty tidy for a woman in her sixth decade, eh?

OK, there's a few lines but her tits are still perky and her tummy flat. Alice looks after herself, regularly treating herself to expensive lingerie and ensuring that her grooming regime is from head to toe. She's favoured a Brazilian before it had a name!

So, why does she enjoy sexual text encounters with strangers like YOU? Well, says Alice, it's all about new experiences.

"When people meet me they probably think I'm just some old, married fuddy duddy. They would never guess that when I was 19 I ran off with a biker gang and, ahem, once ENJOYED three of them at the same time," she laughed.

"I love my husband but I still like to share my experiences and experience some new ones so, come on you horny buggers, get texting me and give me something to finger myself about!"

Alice is typical of the women you'll text here. From yummy mummies in their early 40s to proper grey-haired grannies in their 70s, we've got the perfect oldie for you!

You can specify a type on your first text but remember to put the trigger word first. Or you can add your postcode and we'll put you in touch with someone local.

If you've never tried sex texting before, now's your chance...and you're guaranteed to get messages from a real older horny woman.

WHY WE ASK FOR YOUR POSTCODE...

WE know that some of you guys are not bothered where a lady lives...as long as she is hot and horny and up for fun!

But many of you want to find a no-strings sex text partner who lives locally. By giving us the start of your postcode we can do this for you. We've got ladies from all over the UK so there's sure to be one living near you! You might have seen her down your street!

If you're not bothered then don't put your postcode in your first message. Easy!

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

IT'S election time again – I can't believe it's been five years! I haven't decided who I'm voting for yet, but I know one thing – I do NOT like Ed Milliband.

But there's one question that's been on my mind... what happened to strong female leaders?

Margaret Thatcher was the best leader of the 20th Century – even better than Churchill. Why is there no-one like her around in politics today?

Women are underestimated – we handle stress better than men for a start.

And if you look at every successful man in history, he's always had a strong woman behind him!

We need a force like Mrs Thatcher in UK politics again!

IT'S the finals of The Voice this week – and I am desperate for Emmanuel Nwamadi to win!

He's such a great talent and he's so humble. I really like that.

I remember being a fan of that Jay James from last year's The X Factor – but then he realised how good he was.

And he became cocky and arrogant and acted like a diva backstage. And I just HATED him!

But Emmanuel has a good attitude – really respectful. I wish him the best of luck! I'll be watching.

IT seems every time I read the newspapers, there's Karen Danczuk flashing her cleavage. The Labour councillor is famous for her sizzling selfies – and I think she's bloody GORGEOUS!

Finally, there's some glamour in politics. Good for you, girl. She's married to Rochdale MP Simon Danczuk, and I bet he's a very satisfied chap!

And just to show how much I admire her, here's one of my hot selfies (above) to go with hers.

Time to shut your gob, Katie!

SPEAKING of The Voice, I was a bit surprised to see judge Rita Ora 'twinking' on Marvin Humes last week.

She performed a dodgy lap dance on the former JLS star – who is wed to The Saturdays' singer Rochelle.

Excuse me, but why is she doing that with a bloody married man? That's just not appropriate.

I'm a bit of a body language expert and she was definitely flirting. She was all over him!

She's also getting too close to fellow judge Ricky Wilson.

And his girlfriend just dumped him... can you blame her?

POP sensation Ellie Goulding got in trouble last week when she was snapped with a hardcore PORN star!

The Burn singer posted a gym selfie with her pal Jessie Andrews – who recently starred in Lesbian Public Sex Fetish 2.

And now it looks like Ellie's big sponsor Nike is upset by her 'choice of friends'.

A source said: "Nike is massively conscious about its image and Jessie might not be up their street."

I just HATE this corporate hypocrisy.

What's wrong with being friends with a porn star?

Do the people at Nike not watch porn, then? Of course they fking must. So many people do.

Hopefully, Ellie will ignore them and stay friends with Jessie. They apparently get on really well.

And who wants to support Nike if they don't like sex? I'll stick to Adidas, thanks!

IT'S about time that Katie Hopkins shut her trap.

Twice in a week, Rentagob has caused outrage with her stupid, insensitive comments on Twitter.

And she's now facing a police investigation for her latest rants – let's hope she gets banged up and they throw away the key.

Firstly, she railed against clinical depression, claiming it was a "trendy" disease.

What a load of fking bollocks!

And then she launched an attack on Rochdale Labour MP Simon Danczuk, after he raised the Pakistani flag over his local town hall.

She posted images of Pakistani men involved in a recent sexual abuse scandal and asked Simon: "Are these your friends too?"

That's shocking. She's a loose cannon – and it's going to cause her trouble eventually.

One day, she'll offend the wrong people and end up with serious death threats.

Katie has to watch herself or she'll need a full-time bodyguard to protect her!

She actually did all right for herself on Celebrity Big Brother this year, but she's already back to being a total bitch.

But what really annoys me is that she just gets away with it!

When normal people write something offensive on Twitter they get lots of abuse – and some of them even lose their jobs.

Comfortable

But Katie gets bloody PAID to do it – and she seems to enjoy the hatred of the public.

I just don't understand it. There must be something wrong with her, surely?

How could you be comfortable being the most HATED woman in Britain?

I just couldn't sleep at night, knowing that I'd upset anyone like Katie seems to do all the time.

LAST week I wrote about poor little Zayn Malik, who left boyband One Direction due to "stress".

He apparently wanted to be "a normal 22-year-old again"... but I reckon his girlfriend – Little Mix's Perrie Edwards – made him do it.

And what a surprise!

This week there have been reports she wants to get married "as soon as they can".

Yes, luv. Because marriage is the best way to stop a bloke cheating. Ha-ha!

Pull the other one. Sorry, Perrie, but if you think marriage will change a man, you're living in dreamland.

IS THIS THE WORLD'S TOP JOB?

Wanted: Brothel tester!

APPLICANTS are rushing to bag the world's sauciest job - as an official BROTHEL tester!

The astonishing career is being offered by website Kaufmich.com, which is a German social network for sex workers.

And the chosen hooker reviewer will help them to launch an official ratings system for the county's legalised knocking shops.

By NEIL GOODWIN
 neil@sundaysport.co.uk

A spokesman for the firm said: "Having a brothel in Germany is totally legal but so far there is not a quality system for them in place.

Quality

"We want to be a bit like the Tripadvisor for brothels.

"Clients on Kaufmich should be able to check the quality of brothels before there go - like you are able to check your hotel online before you book."

Candidates for the coveted job must be university-educated, preferably in business or the hotel industry and have, "practical experience of several years of brothel visits". Experience of escorts will be an additional advantage.

In addition, wannabe brothel testers must have a clean, neat appearance and health certificate, be confident, communicative and enjoy "working with people".

Prostitution and brothels are legal in Germany and sex workers pay taxes and have access to health insurance and social security benefits.

Amazing Grace!

JACKI WEAVER

IT'S no mystery why so many will be tuning into U.S. drama Gracepoint tonight...

Because the remake of ITV's Broadchurch is packed full of TOPLESS babes! The series follows the aftermath of 12-year-old Danny Solano's murder on the beach of a quiet coastal town.

Actress Jacki Weaver, 67,

By TOM RHODES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

plays a local suspect, Susan Wright – and she previously went fully NUDE in 70s sex comedy Alvin Purple. Breaking Bad star Anna Gunn stars as Detective Ellie Miller, who investigates the crimes without knowing the real killer is her husband. The 46-year-old flashed her perky norks in 2001 road flick Nobody's Baby.

Fingering

And English actress Sarah Jane Potts, 38, plays a local hotel owner who gets involved in the investigation. She stripped off in U.S. comedy National Lampoon's Barely Legal – while fingering herself under a desk!

SARAH JANE POTTS

ANNA GUNN

Nice...Face!

YOU'LL be splashing your spunk all over The Face tomorrow! The new series of The Face Australia starts Thursday night, based upon the popular UK programme.

The reality show follows a dozen models as they compete to become the next spokesperson for skincare brand Olay. And supermodel Naomi Campbell is the main judge, alongside Cheyenne Tozzi and Nicole Trunfio.

Hopefully she'll be nippin' out on camera – just like her spectacular wardrobe malfunction at the Paris Fashion Week last year (left).

The Face Australia airs Thursday at 8pm on Sky Living/HD.

THE FACE AUSTRALIA

'Tina' star Angela in BBC drama

WHAT'S Love Got To Do With It? star Angela Basset is getting behind a microphone again – to play a singer in a new BBC period drama.

The American actress, (above) who was nominated for an Oscar for her performance as Tina Turner in the 1993 biopic, will star in the six-part series set in a London hotel in the first days after the end of the Second World War.

Jim Sturgess heads the cast of the BBC2 show, written by award-winning dramatist Stephen Poliakoff, as a soldier whose final task is to make sure a German scientist helps the British as the cold war starts to heat up.

Show bosses are staying tight-lipped about Angela's role except to say she will play a Yank singer in the drama, which also stars Game Of Thrones actor Alfie Allen, Lindsay Duncan, Robert Glenister and Alfred Molina.

BBC2 controller Kim Shillinglaw said: "It's great to have this new work alongside our other remarkable dramas."

CORRIE ACTRESS PERFORMS TABOO SEX ACT IN EXPLICIT PHONE VIDEO

Mother slit her throat in ASDA aisle

A MUM slit her own throat in the middle of a supermarket after suffering a breakdown following the death of her daughter, an inquest heard.

Sobia Yousef, 36, died after grabbing a knife from the shelf from the kitchenware aisle of her local ASDA store and plunging it into her neck.

On the morning of her death Mrs Yousef sent her two surviving children to school before walking to the ASDA store in Shipley, West Yorks, killing herself at 8.35am.

She was pronounced dead at the scene by paramedics.

Mrs Yousef had been suffering from severe depression and psychotic episodes after her daughter Meweesh was admitted to Leeds General Infirmary with complications resulting from a congenital heart defect in July 2013.

Bradford Coroner's Court heard that when she had visited her daughter she alarmed staff by claiming she could see cats and believed that black magic had been used on Meweesh.

By the end of July Mrs Yousef had been sectioned under the Mental Health Act after a series of bizarre and dangerous acts.

The case continues.

SHOWERS

It's the 1st, so our babes get wet...just for you!

ROSANNA BECKETT

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

IT'S April 1, folks - so how about some sexy showers?

Because as it lashes it down outside, we're here to brighten up your day with a collection of our finest dripping beauties to mark the first of the month. Meanwhile the weather looks like being just as wet.

Gales, rain and snow have all been forecast to bring disruption to travel - as well as 70mph winds to knock old biddies off their feet.

Meanwhile, families driving like knobheads on the roads and engineering works on the railways means you should probably stay indoors, close the curtains, and feast your eyes on our babes instead!

Sopping-wet Zoe Stollery, 26, looks like she's desperate for someone to wash her back as she drenches her 30F all-natural curves.

And 32DD Gracie Lewis, 26, loves the feeling of a warm nozzle spurting on her nipples.

A weatherman said yesterday: "Batten down the hatches - and don't forget your box of tissues!"

Nicola's had no nookie for nine months

SORRY fellas, busty model Nicola McLean has given up SEX!

The Celebrity Big Brother star claims she's been celibate for over NINE months.

Last year, Nicola dumped footballer Tom Williams, 34, after he had an affair in Las Vegas.

And the 33-year-old (above) beauty revealed she has NOT slept with another man since the split.

She said: "It's been the toughest year of my life."

"I briefly dated someone, but they could see I was on the rebound."

"I haven't had sex with another man since Tom. I've been celibate for nine months, but that's what I feel is best for me right now."

"Anyway, I'd be terrified to have sex with someone new - it's not a pretty sight down there after two kids!"

But the 32GG babe admits she's had LOTS of male attention recently - and it's all because of her confident attitude.

She continued: "It's because I'm happy and confident again and that must shine through."

"I feel sexier than ever!"

Fact me!

VISION uses one-third of all your brainpower.

Good Life Felicity: 'Sex never better!'

TELLY cougar Felicity Kendal reckons that older women are better at SEX!

The Good Life star told reporters that she still feels HORNY in her golden years.

The 68-year-old said: "Sex is still very important to me, yes, and I hope it will be until the day before I die."

"It does get better, too. You feel sexier as you get older...well, I do!"

"When you're 20 or 30 you have this idea that you can only feel sexy if your body looks a certain way."

"You're forever thinking you'd be sexier if you lose weight or had your roots done."

'I had a red-hot threeway session with a man and another gorgeous woman'

Carley Stacey
Age 22, 34F-24-34 from Solihull

FANCY a wild night at a sex party?

Well, you may be in the minority.

Because a new survey has revealed most people DON'T like group sex – despite media reports about the rise of “elite” swingers clubs.

Almost three quarters of adults would refuse to be in an open relationship, according to a YouGov poll.

In the study, co-produced by the Huffington Post, more than 900 participants were asked about their attitudes to monogamy and relationships.

And the overwhelming majority revealed themselves

By ANN COATES
news@sundaysport.co.uk

to have more “traditional” views on love and sex.

Overall, just 10 per cent admitted to having been in an open relationship – where both partners have sex with other people.

And only 14% claimed they would consider being in an open relationship.

Three quarters of those polled said they would NEVER attend a sex party.

And less than one in 10 confessed they had previously attended a sex party.

But glamour model Carley Stacey, 22, reckons that more couples should try swinging – because she says it's the best way to spice up a relationship!

The Solihull beauty said that she previously attended a Killing Kittens bash in London and had the BEST sex of her life!

Threesome

The 34F babe said: “Last year I went to a posh orgy in a Mayfair hotel – and it was such an amazing night.”

“Everyone was wearing masquerade masks and the girls were dressed in really sexy lingerie.”

“I had just got out of a really bad relationship and it was just what I needed.”

“In one night, I had mind-blowing sex with several different guys and I even had a red-hot threeway session with a man and another gorgeous woman.”

“Right now, I'm in a new relationship with a different fella – and we're both into swinging. He's not the jealous type, fortunately!”

“And I really like watching him have sex with other women too.”

“We're a very open-minded couple.”

By MATT FORREST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

GLAMOUR fans are BOUND to love kinky Ashleigh Gee – because it's her ultimate fantasy to be TIED-UP in the bedroom!

The brunette babe revealed she is so explosive between the sheets that she has often "intimidated" some of the lucky men in her life.

But if you're not afraid to get a little bit naughty with her, the 21-year-old newcomer confessed she is very keen for a guy to show her the ROPES when it comes to a little light bondage.

The 34DD lovely, from Chelmsford, Essex, said: "There isn't much I haven't done in the bedroom – but I've never been tied up. I'd love to give that a try."

"I'd like to try all the kinky stuff. I've never been tied up – or used whips or handcuffs. I would love to give them all a go."

"I recently went to see the film version of Fifty Shades of Grey at the cinema. I really enjoyed the passion and intensity of it all."

Bondage

"I'd heard a lot of people slag the film off, but I thought it was AMAZING! It really opened my eyes to a saucy new sex world."

"I've done all the spontaneous stuff before – like sex in public, which was a huge turn – but I've never indulged in any bondage."

"I'd just love to be tied up to see how it feels."

"I enjoy sex and have a lot of energy, but I have been told I am quite intimidating in the bedroom."

"I just need a man to match my intensity. You meet some men who say they would be willing to try it, and then when it comes down to it they aren't as up-for-it as you are."

"And it would have to be with a long term partner – I wouldn't attempt it with someone I'd just hooked up with."

"If you're swinging from the rafters you need a certain level of trust!"

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice - or experience - than our own Agony Angels! This week Jaymie Feather has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Dear Jaymie,

I AM a 30-year-old man who has been seeing a woman of 42, who is a real looker - with cracking tits and nice, long legs.

During a night in together last year, she said we need to spice up our love life.

So I suggested we try dressing up and I confessed I'd once put on women's undies, just for a laugh.

She said she was turned-on by the thought of this, and gave me some of her sexiest gear to try on.

So I slipped into her bra and a thong and got into bed, while she put on a slutty police woman uniform she had left over from a fancy dress party.

We had the most amazing sex together and now dress up for nookie at least once a month.

But I also secretly slip into her underwear and have a good tug when she is out at work.

And I have started buying my own sexy frillies and keep them in a secret suitcase up in the loft.

Should I tell her about this?
Anon, Wales

Jaymie says...

YES - she'll shag your brains out!

Tool factory babe loves to polish my wrench!

Dear Jaymie,

I AM a married middle-aged man with two kids and a boring job.

I work in a factory that makes all sorts of engineering tools that is 95 per cent full of blokes and the few women who work there are nothing to get excited about.

That was until recently, though.

There was an old cleaning lady who used to keep our tea room tidy and her recent replacement is fit as fk.

We all ogled this bird when we first saw her mopping the floor.

She's about 35, with blonde hair and a very nice figure.

On her first day at work, all the lads were flirting with her and paying her compliments and just generally trying it on with her.

But she was having none of it, and told them in no uncertain terms to go and fk themselves – it was funny!

Then one day a couple of weeks ago I went for a cup of tea and was alone until the fit cleaner came in to join me.

She said 'hello' and we started chatting as she got her mop and bucket out and cleaned the floor.

She seemed to be bending over more than usual and I got a cracking glimpse of her lovely arse.

Straight away I became aroused, even more when she turned around and I could see right down her top!

When she caught me looking at her she stopped working and sidled up to me.

At first I thought she was going to give me a right mouthful – or punch me in the face or something!

But amazingly, she moved her hand down to my crotch and felt my bulge.

Then she undid my pants and got down on her knees before she wrapped her lips round my throbbing helmet.

She was an expert at blowjobs – bobbing quickly along the full length of my shaft,

Letter of the day and then cupping my balls and sometimes taking my entire knob right down her greedy throat!

I was about to shoot

my load when she lifted up her overall and took off her white panties and invited me to take her from behind.

Since this happened I've been shagging her at least three times a week!

I really like the cleaner, who is married with one kid, and I am now planning to leave my wife for her.

Should I go for it? Please advise!

HG, Sheffield

Jaymie says...

IF you honestly think you have any kind of a future together – other than just shagging each other's brains out – then go for it.

Otherwise, you may live to regret never taking your relationship a step further.

Dear Jaymie,

I'VE been dating a girl for about a year now.

I'm 20 and she's 23, dark-haired, with big tits and a good arse on her.

At first the sex was great.

On our second date she asked to go for a drive and when I'd eventually parked up she went straight to my pants and started playing with my knob.

I was hard in an instant and she took off her top and put my throbbing cock between her lovely boobs and tugged me off until I shot my sticky load.

She also loved dressing up for sex sessions in stockings and suspenders and being taken from behind hard and fast.

Sadly her mum died recently and she's gone all miserable and started wearing black all the time – but not her undies, sadly.

We haven't done it for two weeks – my ballbag is bursting and I am thinking of dumping her.

What do you reckon?

JC, Bristol

Jaymie says...

WHAT a charmer you are. Have some bloody sympathy while she grieves, you horrible little shit!

Nail-biting happy finish!

Dear Jaymie,

MY missus is well into gardening, so her hands are always been grubby and her nails clipped short.

I've never minded though, because it has never stopped her giving me loads of sex, whenever I feel horny and pester her for a bit.

We have two grown-up kids but they moved out a few years ago and have families of their own.

Many a time I would sneak out into the back garden as the wife was planting bulbs, goose her arse and lead her into the shed.

Once inside I would push her up against the lawn mower and give her a big sloppy kiss as I undid her blouse and scooped her 34F melons out of her bra.

After a bit of licking and sucking of her nips, I would hitch up her long, flowery skirt, take down her drawers and have her right then and there.

But now she is in her 50s she has sadly given up gardening because her back started giving her gyp.

To be honest, I thought her back would stop us shagging as often, but it hasn't – we just can't be as adventurous as we used to be.

Most of our lovemaking is now in the missionary position.

But I'm still getting serviced five times a week, which I don't think is too bad for a fella in his 50s.

The problem is, now my missus isn't gardening anymore, she has grown her nails long.

She's always passionate on the job but she's ripping my back to shreds.

I've told her about it, but she says I'm ungrateful and that I should find it horny.

What should I do?

GD, Stoke-on-Trent

Jaymie says...

TAKE your wife to a nail bar for some pampering, and save your back.

SAM FOX

NEWCASTLE copper Barry Dickson often likes to think back to the glory days of glamour girls - and 80s pin-up Sam Fox!

Sam, 34D, from London, started off as a topless model before launching a chart-topping pop career for herself.

Barry, 44, said: "I always loved Sam Fox - both as a model and a singer."

"When I was younger, I would watch her dance in the Touch Me music video - she was stunning!"

"And she's still drop dead gorgeous today."

So here's one for you, Barry!

LEONORA LOVE

GLAMOUR model Leonora Love, from Maidstone, Kent, is the choice of construction worker Lee Dean.

The 27-year-old, from Scarborough, North Yorks, e-mailed last week to request his favourite Midweek Sport babe.

He wrote: "Ever since she started modelling, I've been a big fan of Leonora."

"She's got that really posh look - but you can tell she's proper naughty!"

"Would you mind printing a topless snap for me? I'd love to see her again!"

JEWEL SANTINI

BETTING shop worker Phil Crosby is the self-confessed "biggest fan" of Essex model Jewel Santini, 26.

The 25-year-old, from Reading, Berks, told us: "Could you publish a photo of Jewel, please? She hasn't been in the Midweek Sport for ages now."

"I think she's got the perfect sized boobs - really perky and lovely!"

Well, Phil, you asked - and we responded. Here's a picture of Jewel in all her glory!

Kelly Holland says...

I'M not the sort of girl that sleeps around, but I get a LOT of attention from blokes. I actually waited over a month before I had sex with my current boyfriend. I had to see if he liked me for my personality, not just my looks. And let's just say he was a very satisfied customer when we finally did it. Ha-ha! There's nothing wrong with having sex on the first date obviously, but I just don't think it's worth the risk.

SEX ON 1st DATE, OR MAKE HIM WAIT?

THINK you're going to get lucky tonight? Well, you may have to wait until the FIFTH date!

On average, women first have sex in a new relationship after THREE weeks.

And almost a third of women claimed they sleep with their partner on the FIFTH date, a new study claims.

The UK's biggest online sex shop Lovehoney asked over 2,000 Brits about their attitudes to sex and dating 'milestones'.

Frisky

Most women wait several weeks before getting frisky – with just 15 per cent of women admitting to first-date sex. On the other hand, over a quarter of blokes say they prefer sex on the first date.

But they're also more likely to show commitment earlier – with almost half of men saying "I love you" within TWO months.

And they also change their Facebook status to 'in a relationship' far more quickly than women.

Lovehoney boss Richard Longhurst said: "This survey shows that men in general like to get a move on – not just when for sex, but commitment too."

"They are keen to tell their partner they love them, but also to outwardly recognise this commitment by changing their Facebook status."

"Women prefer to take their time before revealing similar levels of commitment."

So, what do our glamour babes think about having sex on a first date? We asked three beauties...

Briony Blakely says...

OF yes! The results of this survey sound familiar. I'm not surprised that so many blokes want to have sex on the first date – they're bloody obsessed! But I've also seen guys rush into relationships way too fast – updating their Facebook status and even confessing that they're in love after a few weeks, which is way too quick to be sure.

What's the hurry, guys? It can all be a bit too much in the first couple of months.

Take some advice – girls like to take things a bit more slowly.

Katy Keller says...

I DON'T have strict 'rules' for dating. If I'm really attracted to a guy, I'll definitely shag him on the first date - why would you wait three weeks?

There are lots of reasons why it's actually BETTER to have sex early on in the relationship.

Like, what if you were dating a guy - and really liked him - but when you finally have sex it's disappointing?

You couldn't exactly stay with him, could you? And then it would be awful having to break up. So in my opinion, girls shouldn't make up excuses not to have sex with a guy. If you fancy him then what's the problem?

BOOBS ON THE BOX

Britain's only NAKED TV guide

with SIMON DEAN

Film4, 10.55pm, Trainspotting

A DEEPLY unpleasant film about deeply unpleasant people doing deeply unpleasant things and blaming the English for their unpleasantness.

But gorgeous Kelly MacDonal's fantastic boobs and minge at 26 mins make up for everything.

Movies4Men, 12.30am, Porky's

A BLAST from all our pasts. Crammed with big, hairy minges and ripe knockers as the good lord intended. The shower scene alone – at 1 hr 2 mins – is enough to cause you an intimate strain.

Select, 10.05pm, The Wolf of Wall Street

NO matter how many times I see that picture of Margot Robbie totally bare and revealing her beautifully-tufted mingewhiskers, my chap's eye weeps like a scolded toddler. Nudity throughout. Use lotion, folks.

AM GOING TO KILL OFF KELL!

But he'll have to wait before I end his career, warns Khan

AMIR KHAN wants a "winner takes all" showdown with Kell Brook – but has told his British rival he will have to wait.

Khan, who has fought just twice in the last two years, is set to name his next opponent in the coming days but says he would love a clash with IBF welterweight champion Brook at some stage.

The Bolton man is in no hurry to face his compatriot, with both boxers still holding out hope of taking on either Floyd Mayweather or Manny Pacquiao, who meet in their megafight on May 2.

Khan said: "I'd love to go in the ring and fight Kell Brook because it could be his last fight against me."

"The thing is, I would give him so much of a beating that it could end up being his last fight."

Stabbed

"And maybe that's why he wants it, because he knows that one fight against me will financially secure him for the rest of his life."

"But it's all about timing. If I've got a different route and I want to face the likes of the Mayweathers or Pacquiao out there, then Kell Brook will have to wait."

Brook retained his world crown in style at the weekend with a four-round stoppage of Romanian challenger Jo Jo Dan at a sold-out Motorpoint Arena in his native Sheffield.

That came just six months after the unbeaten 28-year-old was stabbed in the leg with a machete in Tenerife.

Brook issued a "come and fight me" challenge to Khan, with his promoter Eddie Hearn adding that Wembley Stadium was free for the pair on June 13.

Khan is confident he would emerge victorious against the

BOXING

'Special One', but the 28-year-old insists he has other priorities for now.

He said: "Kell Brook was saying he wants to forget about Amir Khan, he wants to fight Pacquiao and Mayweather."

"These guys don't know who Kell Brook is. Regardless he's a world champion, he's just a name, so they don't know who he is."

"But after the fight against Dan he calls me out – I saw him calling me out getting really excited, him and his promoter Eddie Hearn."

"It'll happen one day, and if Kell really wants to fight me, I'll fight him – but the winner takes all."

"I'll do a huge bonus because I know he's going to lose the fight, give him a little guarantee what he gets."

"But the guy who wins the fight takes a big lump sum. That's how confident I am against Kell Brook."

SINFIELD EXCITED BY CODE SWITCH

LEEDS RHINOS captain Kevin Sinfield will retire from rugby league at the end of the season to play union for Yorkshire Carnegie.

The 34-year-old former England skipper (left) has led the Rhinos to six Super League titles, three World Club Challenges and one Challenge Cup success since making his debut for the club at the age of 16.

Sinfield is relishing the

prospect of a new chapter in his distinguished playing career.

"This season will be my last as a Rhinos player," he said.

"I'm delighted to say I'm going to play rugby union for Yorkshire Carnegie."

"It's a challenge that really excites me and something I've wanted to do for a long time, but actually thought I'd never get the chance to do it."

"There's a new board in place at Yorkshire Carnegie that has set some high ambitions to take the club back to where it belongs in the Premiership."

"It seems to me like the logical decision. I don't have to uproot my family and I know a lot of the guys at the club already."

"And I know the support is in place to help with the transition."

"I've been at the Rhinos since I was a 13-year-old and the club means so much to me."

"But at some stage it has to end. It doesn't end quite yet, there's still seven months of the season left to play."

"I'm very committed, like I've always been, and my focus now is to ensure 2015 for the Rhinos finishes in the right way."

BATTLE: Adrian Lewis

Last chance for Lew to avoid KO heartbreak

DARTS

ADRIAN LEWIS admits he is facing a "do-or-die" battle with Peter Wright to avoid elimination from the Premier League in tomorrow's Judgement Night.

Lewis is second-bottom in the table going into the ninth league night of the season.

The bottom two players will be eliminated after the round of matches at Manchester Arena.

Lewis's only win this season came on opening night in Leeds. He has picked up three draws, but the two-time world champion is aiming to regain his top form.

"It's a do-or-die match and if I finish like I did last week I deserve to go out," said Lewis.

"Anybody can score well, but it's about hitting the doubles at the right times."

"I did it in Glasgow, but in Dublin it didn't happen for me."

"I'm starting too slowly in games and I've got to come out of the blocks a lot quicker."

Kim Huybrechts has to beat Stephen Bunting to have any chance of avoiding elimination, as he sits two points behind Lewis and reigning champion Raymond van Barneveld.

Dutch ace Barney could even find himself eliminated with a defeat in the most wide-open Judgement Night since the concept was introduced in 2013.

The only players safe from getting knocked out this week are Michael van Gerwen, Gary Anderson, Dave Chisnall, James Wade and Phil Taylor.

Lewis was the 2011 Premier League runner-up but has only reached the semi-finals twice in seven appearances in the tournament.

He admitted: "It's difficult to deal with but I've never had a good experience in the Premier League."

"It's a format that I can't find my best form in for some reason."

DOG LEADS

BY MICK LIVESEY

Harris set to hit the Target

THE pick of the midweek action comes from Hove tomorrow where there's a cracking meeting packed with really exciting races.

Target Harris looks to be just about the best thing on the card. He goes in the Coral Easter Sprint final worth £500 to the winner.

Hayley Keightley's dog is a machine and, never mind tomorrow, if he can stay injury free this will be a huge year for this talented speedster.

He's got a great draw in four and I think he will simply be too good for this opposition even though they are talented.

Droopys Norris is frustrating at times. He's got bundles of talent and really should have a major prize already in the locker.

I'm convinced though with a little bit of luck this could be his year and I'm expecting him to win tomorrow especially coming out of his beloved trap-one slot.

Struggle

Bubbly Time had no chance latest when out in trap five but I'm expecting her to bounce back here from trap two in the 740m contest.

I don't mind admitting I'm a fan of this stayer and if she comes away in her best fashion they will struggle to catch her over this trip.

There is no doubt Droopys Cottage is better over further but I fancy her to gun down her challengers here over 515m.

She is far from being void of early and it would be no surprise to see her turn handy.

If she does, quickly form an orderly queue at the window marked 'Pay Out' because that is exactly what the bookmakers will be doing.

BOOKIE BASHER

OUR SPORTS BETTING GURU WILL PUT YOU ON TO A WINNER!

HAT-TRICK HERO: Steven Fletcher

Scotland the rave at 11/8

AS betting weeks go this one is drier than the Sahara.

Unless you can persuade your lawyer to give you a price about Spartacus being on telly this Easter (and let's face it, it usually is) the normal advice would be to keep hold of your wedge.

But where's the fun in that? So instead we will turn our attention to a longer term punt on the Euro 2016 tournament.

England are already in the finals, Northern Ireland (2/7) and Wales (4/9) are almost on the plane and it would be tempting to go for a grand slam of all home nations qualifying at 50/1 with BetVictor.

Except the Republic of Ireland and Scotland are in the same group and with the more powerful Poland and Germany leading the way it seems certain the best that one of them can expect is a play-off berth.

The bookies make it a close call about which of them is likelier to make it to France with Scotland at 11/8 and Ireland 7/4.

At those odds Scotland, 6-1 winners over the mighty Gibraltar, make the greater appeal.

Generous

Odds-on shots are not for the Bookie Basher but if your bank balance is especially healthy, the 4/9 about Wales qualification is actually quite generous.

Wales are three points in front of third-placed Belgium who are next up at Cardiff in June.

With Gareth Bale in such excellent form it's hard to see them faltering.

So who wins the whole tournament?

England are fourth in the bookies' lists at 12/1 behind Germany (7/2), the hosts France (9/2) and Spain (13/2).

Roy Hodgson's men impressed in their 4-0 cruise against Lithuania and with Harry Kane one of the most exciting prospects in world football, he made his first start in last night's friendly with Italy, optimism is high among the Three Lions fans.

But how many times have we been down this road before?

England fans go into every tournament with all the passion of a sex maniac on a first date.

But they never get to go the whole way.

World Cup stars Germany are still strong, home advantage will help France but the obvious appeal remains with Spain at 13/2.

With David de Gea poised to take over from 33-year-old Iker Casillas who has an astonishing 161 caps in goal, Spain's rearguard is in safe hands.

Their spine is impressive with Sergio Ramos one of the planet's most reliable defenders and Diego Costa firing the bullets they represent the best value.

BETS: SCOTLAND TO QUALIFY (11/8); SPAIN TO WIN EURO 2016 (13/2).

JACKETT BACKS SAKO TO STAY ON

WOLVES boss Kenny Jackett insists they CAN hang on to crown jewel Bakary Sako despite the circling Premier League vultures.

West Brom head a queue of top-flight clubs who are keen on the 13-goal forward, who will be a free agent in the summer.

Jackett said: "The situation with him has intensified in the last few months."

"But are we an option for him for next season? Yes, we are. We like Sako here. I have consistently picked him and he is a crowd favourite."

"We want him to stay here next season and the door is open for him to stay."

"We've not had any approach and I wouldn't expect one. His contract has been honoured on both sides."

FIVE OFFERS ON TABLE FOR BLUES

FIVE offers have been made for Birmingham, their receivers have confirmed.

Ernst & Young, who are in effective control of the club, said in a statement to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange: "We are currently exploring all strategic options, including a number of offers from parties expressing an interest in the company."

"We have so far received five non-binding offers from independent third parties in relation to possible acquisition of an interest in the company."

"No formal agreement in relation to the offers has been entered into and the offers may or may not proceed and/or lead to any transaction in relation to the disposal of any part of the group's interests."

RIC CLOSE TO COUNTY POSITION

EX-TOTTENHAM coach Ricardo Moniz is closing in on the Notts County job.

The Dutchman has been in advanced talks with the League One club over succeeding Shaun Derry at Meadow Lane.

Moniz was at Spurs under Martin Jol between 2005 and 2008 and also at Hamburg.

He has previously managed Red Bull Salzburg, Ferencváros and, most recently, 1860 Munich – who sacked him last September.

The Magpies are above the drop zone on goal difference after Saturday's draw with Scunthorpe.

It is understood his backroom staff could include former Magpies favourites Tommy Johnson – who is currently head of recruitment at Blackburn – and Dean Yates.

Toffees target a nice little Herner

EVERTON are confident of landing Man United striker Javier Hernandez for a cut-price £5million this summer.

The Mexico goal poacher is currently on loan with Spanish giants Real Madrid, but his time at the Bernabeu has turned sour.

Hernandez, who has a year left on his contract with United, admits his confidence has sunk to an all-time low because of the lack of game time in La Liga.

The 26-year-old has started just four matches since he joined the European champions on a season-long loan last year. Real have the option to make the deal permanent at the end of the season, but Hernandez is set to head back to the Premier League instead.

By TIM ABRAHAM

"At times my confidence is rock bottom," he moaned.

"My situation is a very frustrating one. I participate, I give my all in training, but as far as playing in matches, the opportunities are minimal."

"I belong to a team, but I'm not part of the important bit – the games."

United boss Louis van Gaal has already deemed the "Little Pea" surplus to requirements at Old Trafford and is prepared to let him leave to free up space on the club's wage bill. Toffees boss Roberto Martinez has identified the player as the perfect foil for powerful Belgium forward Romelu Lukaku.

And he will bring the pint-sized striker to Goodison in the summer – as long as he can convince United to cut their losses.

Plaudits

Everton midfielder Gareth Barry says he has been impressed by Southampton in this campaign, as they prepare to host Ronald Koeman's side.

"It's been an unbelievable season for them," Barry said ahead of Saturday's clash at Goodison Park.

"It was documented that a lot of people thought they would get relegated with the players they were selling and a new manager coming in."

"Not too many knew a lot about his managerial skills so they deserve a lot of credit. "To be at this stage of the season and to still be fighting for the Champions League, they deserve all the plaudits they are getting."

"In terms of our game against them, it's going to be really tough because they still have that opportunity to break into the top four and I'm sure they are going to fight right to the end."

Everton will be hoping Lukaku (hamstring), Darron Gibson (stomach strain) and Arouna Kone (knee) will all be fit for the visit of the Saints.

WE'LL GIB GERMANY ANOTHER BEATING!

By FRANK McCAULEY

DEFENDER Ben Gibson is hoping England Under-21s' 3-2 friendly victory over Germany was a dress rehearsal for a European Championship finals showdown.

Both sides will head for the Czech Republic during the summer as manager Gareth Southgate tries to guide the Young Lions to glory.

And England will do so having got the better of their Kraut counterparts at the Riverside Stadium on Monday evening.

Southgate's men twice had to come from behind before stealing victory.

And Middlesbrough's Gibson is hoping that will stand them in good stead for the finals.

He said: "Germany were always going to be a good side."

"You know they are going to be technical and strong, and that's what they were, but we knew we could match them."

"We did that and ended up getting the result."

"We're hoping we'll play them at some point either in the semi-final or final in the Euros – that would be nice."

"They are a good side, so for us to get the win, that was the important thing."

Chore

The victory was England's third against fellow finalists, with Portugal and the Czech hosts having already tasted defeat.

And, while Southgate is confident progress is being made, he's taking nothing for granted.

He said: "We've got depth, which really excites me because I don't think you can go to a tournament relying on a couple of players."

"We've shown that depth right through the campaign."

"We had Raheem Sterling at the start, we had Luke Shaw in. We've had to win matches without them at different times, without Harry Kane, without Saido Berahino, and we've kept doing it."

"I'm reasonably clear on 21 of my final 23, so there are a couple of places that are still up for grabs, but I know whoever goes is totally committed."

"There won't be any loafing around, there won't be any lads who feel it's a chore to go."

PALACE STEER CLEAR OF FOREIGN KAR

By IAN WINROW

STEVE PARISH has revealed he turned down the chance to get in-demand Middlesbrough boss Aitor Karanka to Crystal Palace – because he wanted to go British.

Karanka – who was Jose Mourinho's No.2 at Real Madrid – is one of the hottest properties in the Championship after overseeing Boro's promotion challenge.

But Palace chief executive Parish decided against taking the Spaniard to Selhurst Park last season when he was after Ian Holloway's replacement.

Parish eventually opted for Tony Pulis, who oversaw the club's great escape.

And Parish said: "I would say the situation we were in at the time and with the make-up of our squad, I think it would have been difficult for a manager coming in from overseas. They wouldn't know our squad. If you're going to have a manager who hasn't worked here, you need a proper pre-season and the chance to form a squad they want."

"There isn't a real reason for having British guys, I just went for experience."

"You want people who you think you can get on with and culturally if you're close it makes it easier, but there are certainly some great managers from abroad. I had a really good chat with Aitor Karanka (right) before he went to take over at Middlesbrough and he was very impressive."

"I just thought by the time he arrives, unpacks his bags, gets his house sorted and works out who the players are, it might be too late."

"We could lose four games during that settling-in period and then there's pressure on you again."

Sterling effort to keep Kop star

LIVERPOOL will fight "tooth and nail" to make sure Raheem Sterling remains at Anfield.

The England star has shelved talks over a new contract until the summer, which has sparked speculation he's ready to quit the club.

Arsenal are monitoring the situation while Bayern Munich, Barcelona and Real Madrid are all ready to pounce should he become available. Liverpool plan to reopen negotiations at the end of the season, when they will try to make Sterling one of the highest paid players in the club's history.

And Anfield sources insist boss Brendan Rodgers is doing his utmost to hang on to the talented 20-year-old.

"Everyone is fairly relaxed about Raheem's situation at the moment," said an insider. "The player wants to focus on football for the next few weeks and everyone respects that.

"But the club will certainly fight tooth and nail to make sure he stays on Merseyside."

Sterling has a close relationship with Rodgers and credits the Northern Irishman with helping turn him into one of the Premier League's elite players.

However, he has started to become frustrated at being asked to play out wide and he wants guarantees about his future role in the side. Spanish youngster Sergi Canos is hopeful of catching the eye of Reds boss Rodgers and make the bench for a Premier League game.

The 18-year-old striker has bagged 18 goals for the club's Academy side and has been training with the first team.

He said: "It's an unbelievable feeling to train here. This is a big chance for me to try to step up to the first team."

KOL WANTS ITALY MOVE

By TIM ABRAHAM

ALEKSANDAR KOLAROV has cast doubt over his future at Manchester City after revealing he wants to return to Italy.

The 29-year-old, who joined City from Lazio for £16million in 2010, has been in and out of Manuel Pellegrini's starting line-up this season and has started only 11 Premier League matches.

Former club Lazio and Inter Milan have been linked with Kolarov, who admits he has been impressed by the work of Serbian compatriot Sinisa Mihajlovic at Sampdoria. The defender said: "I would like to return to Italy, but it's difficult."

"I'm happy for Sinisa Mihajlovic. He's doing very well, as are Lazio. They're having a great season and I hope they can end it in third or even second place."

City midfielder Yaya Toure is expected to announce he's retiring from international football rather than go with Ivory Coast to the 2018 World Cup in Russia.

Dynamo

Toure captained his country to a first Africa Cup of Nations triumph since 1992 in Equatorial Guinea earlier this year.

The 31-year-old, who has already seen brother Kolo retire, said: "I think now my target is done."

"I want to wait a couple of days before I will decide my future."

City boss Pellegrini has made all-action Wolfsburg midfielder Kevin de Bruyne his No.1 transfer target this summer.

Pellegrini believes his side are missing some energy in the middle of the park and thinks the Belgium star (below) is the man to revive their fortunes. City officials, including director Txiki Begiristain, have already sounded out De Bruyne's agent over a potential deal.

City star hints at return to Lazio

Wolfsburg will demand £40m for the midfielder dynamo, although City are hopeful of a player-plus-cash deal to bring down the fee.

De Bruyne left Chelsea for Wolfsburg for £18m last year and has since developed into one of the Bundesliga's star players.

Stab

In 56 games for the Kraut club, the 23-year-old has scored 17 goals and provided 30 assists.

City will face competition from Bayern Munich and old club Chelsea for the flame-haired player's signature, with sources close to his agent suggesting he wants another stab at the Premier League.

The presence of Belgium captain Vincent Kompany at the Etihad will help City's chances, but publicly De Bruyne was cagey when asked about his future this week.

"What will I be doing next season? I'll keep playing football," he said cryptically.

OUT OF FAVOUR:
Aleksandar Kolarov has only managed 11 league starts for City this season

FOCUSED:
Brown Ideye

It all comes Brown to the next 2 games

WEST BROM striker Brown Ideye has identified their next two matches as the key to survival.

The Baggies have successive home games against QPR and Leicester, both of whom are rooted in the relegation zone.

The gap between the 14th-placed Baggies and the bottom three currently stands at eight points.

But Tony Pulis's men want points on the board as quickly as possible with matches against Man United, Liverpool, Arsenal and Chelsea to come in four of their last five games.

By BRENDAN MCLOUGHLIN

"I think we should go for six points," said Ideye, who is battling to recover from a knee injury in time for Saturday's visit of QPR.

"People are saying three points will be enough, but I'm not confident with three."

"In football you don't know what will happen in the next minute, so getting six points would be good."

Flopping

"The next two games are massive for us. We are playing at home so we have to concentrate on giving our fans what we need, which is three points."

"We must go for it and make sure we grab it."

Ideye has turned his campaign upside-down under Pulis, scoring five goals in his last eight games after flopping in the first half of the season. But the £10million club-record signing from Dynamo Kiev said: "Even when things weren't going well with me, I kept working hard."

"It was unfortunate that things only turned out like this when Tony arrived here."

"I had a chat with him and he told me to keep on working hard."

"That's what I was doing even when Alan Irvine was in charge and things just weren't working out the way they were supposed to."

"But I'm enjoying my football right now and I will just take it one step at a time."

"Tony has told me to work hard for the team, as everyone is doing right now."

"Being in the first XI is hard, but Tony's approach is giving us results."

SEAN SURE OF SURVIVAL

BURNLEY boss Sean Dyche insists he has "total belief" that his players will beat the drop.

The Clarets are inside the drop zone ahead of Sunday's clash with Tottenham at Turf Moor.

But Dyche blasted: "I have total belief we will be in the Premier League next season."

"I didn't have a points target in mind - and there will be a million statisticians coming out with different outcomes."

"I'd have wanted to be higher up the table, of course, but after 10 games we were written off. We've got eight more to go and there'll be no slowing down."

EURO ELITE SET FOR CASH BOOST

By FRANK McCAULEY

BRITISH clubs playing in the Champions League and Europa League from next season will receive a share of a £1.7BILLION prize pot – up from £1.2bn this year.

The deal will also see money being distributed more evenly, with Europa League participants getting increased revenue in the qualifying rounds.

UEFA president Michel Platini (below) said: "UEFA should work with associations and clubs to find the best solutions."

UEFA has also agreed to give European Club Association members at least £145m from Euro 2020 revenues for releasing their players – an increase of £36m from Euro 2016.

The new deal for the European club competitions, which will run until 2018, will also involve two ECA representatives from its 214 member clubs across Europe sitting on the UEFA executive committee.

ECA chairman Karl-Heinz Rummenigge added: "The ECA is still a very young organisation and these achievements are an extraordinary success, which will strengthen the solidarity among the clubs and our sense of responsibility for football."

I'll prove I'm De man next season

SIEM DE JONG has hit back at claims he's a serial crock.

Newcastle's injury-prone midfielder has seen his first season in England decimated by fitness and health problems.

The Dutchman has hardly figured since a £6million summer move from Ajax, after being laid low by a serious groin problem in the first half of the campaign.

The 26-year-old (right) was on the verge of a comeback at the start of the year, but he suffered a partially collapsed lung, ruling him out for the rest of the season.

De Jong is confident he'll be back to his best for the new campaign in August, when he hopes to prove his doubters wrong.

He said: "You read things on social media, and see what people are saying, but it doesn't affect me much."

"I have a long contract here, so I have a few years to prove what I can do. I have a lot more football still to play at Newcastle."

"Of course I'm frustrated about my injuries. You want to show the club and fans what you can do."

"I've not been injured much over the past seven years. Except for this last campaign, I've played more than 50 games every season."

BREAK COULD HURT HAMMERS

By IAN WINROW

MORGAN AMALFITANO reckons the international break came at the wrong time for West Ham.

Sam Allardyce's side have endured a frustrating time in recent weeks before ending a run of eight games without a win against Sunderland.

The victory over the Black Cats revived hopes of the Hammers making a strong surge during the final weeks of the season, and Amalfitano wants another three points at Leicester on Saturday.

But the midfielder (right) hopes the enforced rest doesn't prevent Allardyce's team from building momentum.

He said: "We've had a week's rest due to the international break and hopefully we'll be able to follow the last game and build on the win we had against Sunderland because we need that."

"Leicester will be a tough game and we need to be focused, but I think we can do something."

"Maybe it is not good to have that break straight after a win, but we'll see. The rest could do us good."

"We have a big chance to end the season well. We have a lot of games against the teams below us, but that's not going to be easy. You have to stay focused – and we will be against Leicester."

OLD PROS LINING UP If Di Maria

BIG FUTURE: Rodney Marsh (inset) reckons Harry Kane could be one of England's all-time greats

TO HEAP HYPE ON SPURS ACE

costs £60m, then Harry Kane is worth £100m

By JON WEST

SPURS goal machine Harry Kane is now worth £100million.

That's the verdict of ex-England striker Rodney Marsh after watching the 21-year-old go from reserve team player to international star in the space of eight months.

Kane is the hottest name in English football right now thanks to 29 goals for Tottenham this season – and the perfect start to his international career.

Former Manchester City star Marsh knows what it is like to wear the Three Lions on his shirt.

And he is tipping Kane to be a bigger star than former England skipper Alan Shearer!

Marsh said: "I reckon he's worth about £100m, I honestly do."

"If I was a chairman of a football club, that's what I would pay for Harry Kane."

Disgrace

"Manchester City paid £32m for a relatively untried youngster called Eliaquim Mangala, while Angel di Maria cost Man United £60m."

"Harry has proved to be a much better player than Di Maria in the Premier League."

"If Di Maria is worth £60m, Harry Kane is worth £100m all day long."

"For England, I think he's going to go on and be a bigger and better player than Alan Shearer was."

England's record caps

MARSH: HARRY CAN BE BIGGER THAN SHEARER

holder Peter Shilton is equally excited by Kane and feels the national team "need a lot more" like him. Kane took just 79 seconds to open his England account against Lithuania on Friday and he led the line against Italy in Turin last night.

And Shilton, who remains England's all-time appearance record holder with 125 caps, is impressed with what he has seen.

"He is a very exciting home grown player," said Shilton. "He's what we are looking for and what we need a lot more of."

"But let's take it steady with him. International football is a big step up."

Kane is also set to take part in this summer's U21 European Championships. Shilton's old England team-mate Gary Lineker tweeted on Monday that it would be a "national disgrace" if any clubs tried to pull their players out of that tournament.

And, while Shilton didn't go quite that far, the 65-year-old agrees about the importance of the competition.

He added: "Winning things is a great incentive. It boosts your confidence at whatever level it comes."

"I think the Under-21s are very important. To go and win a tournament like that would be great for the country."

Tottenham are keen to keep hold of Kane, but they are in the market for a new striker.

Sizzling

That's because they are keen to move on flop duo Emmanuel Adebayor and Roberto Soldado.

According to reports in Italy, Juventus striker Fernando Llorente is a target.

The 30-year-old has been in sizzling form since he joined the Italian champions on a free transfer in July 2013.

The Spaniard has hit 20 goals in 53 appearances and Spurs scouts have been keeping a close eye on the former Athletic Bilbao man.

SNOOKER LOOPY: Fergie

FERGUSON IN SHOCK BID TO MAKE WORLD SNOOKER CHAMPIONSHIP

SIR ALEX FERGUSON has swapped the green grass of Old Trafford for the green baize as he attempts to pull off what would be one of his greatest sporting achievements ever – by qualifying for this year's WORLD SNOOKER CHAMPIONSHIP!

Our exclusive picture (above) shows Fergie, cue in hand, on his now daily journey to his top-secret private coaching lessons.

By MONTY MARKS

The Manchester United legend has cut back on his duties as a club director and ambassador over recent months due to an extensive training regime which sees him spend up to six hours a day honing his already formidable cueing technique.

Behemoth

Fergie – who has also held a role as a UEFA coaching ambassador since January 2014 – was a keen amateur player in his younger days and even thought about going pro before his love of football took over.

And he has finally got the chance to fulfil a lifelong dream after changes to the world championship qualifying rules. As of this year, the number of entrants has increased from 128 to 144, with the extra places being handed to crowd-pulling sporting greats such as Stephen Hendry, Steve Davis – and footballing behemoth Fergie.

The draw takes place today, with qualifying under way for the week commencing April 8, and the tournament proper starting on April 18 at Sheffield's famous Crucible arena.

A close friend of Fergie's told Midweek Sport: "Och aye, Alex has had this dream since he was just a wee bairn and he's fair excited about his chances."

"April 1 will be a massive day for the big man. You'd be a fool to think he willnae give it his all!"

Saints ready to spend big after making £33m profit

RONALD KOEMAN is set to be handed a summer transfer boost after Southampton announced a whopping £33million profit.

The club yesterday revealed it had entered the black for the first time since falling into administration in 2009 when the accounts for year ending June 2014 were announced.

And that will give boss Koeman a major lift when he attempts to strengthen his playing squad during the next transfer window.

Saints lost a number of high-profile players last summer when the likes of Adam Lallana, Rickie Lambert, Luke Shaw and Dejan Lovren all left.

Chief executive officer Gareth Rogers said: "Recording the first profit since administration is very pleasing. It proves the health of the club and shows the foundations are there to be built on."

FA sadness over scrapped plans for GB Olympic teams

THE FA has expressed disappointment after being forced to scrap plans to enter British men's and women's football teams for the 2016 Olympics in Rio after opposition from other home nations.

The FA had told Scotland, Wales and Ireland it was intending to enter teams for Rio, provoking a storm of criticism.

An FA spokesman confirmed the plan has now been dropped, saying: "After careful discussion, the FA has decided not to enter either a women's or a men's team into the Rio Olympics 2016."

"We are disappointed not to be able to go ahead, given the fantastic opportunity it would have afforded the players and the broader exposure it would have brought to the game in our countries."

Livid

Football Association of Wales president Trefor Lloyd Hughes had reacted furiously when the FA sent a letter in January informing the home nations of its plans.

He said he was "livid" at the letter and vowed to oppose the move.

FIFA also made it clear that all four home nations would have to agree before the plan could be ratified.

In light of that, the FA's director of football services Jonathan Hall informed the other

FURY: Trefor Hughes

British associations it had dropped the plan.

FIFA vice-president Jim Boyce said last week: "I was given an absolute categorical reassurance from FIFA that unless full agreement could be reached between England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland, there would be no GB team participating at next year's Olympics."

Bright Sparky has given Stoke chief a pleasant shock

STOKE owner Peter Coates admits even he has been surprised by the quick impact boss Mark Hughes has made at the Britannia Stadium.

Hughes succeeded Tony Pulis as Potters chief in summer 2013 after the club targeted a switch in style from Pulis' more direct approach.

The ex-Wales chief secured ninth last term – Stoke's best ever Premier League finish.

This season the Potters currently sit 10th on 42 points and are in good shape to challenge their previous campaign total.

And last week Sparky agreed a new three-year deal.

"When you make a change you think it will put you back initially because people have got to get used to working under a different approach," said Coates.

"I think Mark was surprised by the squad he inherited."

Exciting

"He's done very well and the players have bought into him and the new style of play, which has been very pleasing, exciting and encouraging."

"I've long held the view that the critical appointment at any football club is the manager – if you get that right, then you will always have a chance."

"We are very pleased with what Mark has achieved in his spell and we're obviously pleased he wants to continue.

IMPACT: Mark Hughes

"As ever, we do want to get better and Mark has aspirations to get higher up the table and we want to support him in doing that."

"It's great to have him feel like he can achieve progression here and he is confident in what he can and can't do."

SPAIN MIDFIELDER ON A ROLL

PLENTY TO SHOUT ABOUT: Juan Mata is on top of his game and one of his two goals against Liverpool was spectacular (inset)

AFTER WINNING OVER VAN GAAL

I'M THE JUAN TO WATCH!

United playmaker warns he's hitting his peak

By TIM ABRAHAM

JUAN MATA has warned Manchester United's Premier League rivals he is now hitting the peak of his football powers.

The Spain midfielder bagged an impressive brace against top-four challengers Liverpool in United's last game before the international break.

Mata struggled to win over boss Louis van Gaal when he succeeded the axed David Moyes at Old Trafford – but he has now become a firm favourite of the Dutchman.

And the ex-Chelsea playmaker reckons that at 26 he is now entering his best years as a player.

"I am convinced that I'm in a perfect age in my football career," said Mata.

"I look forward to keep contributing and achieving more success."

"That's what I work for every day, training and playing to the maximum, trying to do the best I can."

"After that, obviously, the manager is the one who picks the player."

Crucial

"I've been very lucky to play and win a World Cup and a European Championships, to participate in the most important competitions, but I'm still excited as the first day."

United host Aston Villa on Saturday and Mata admits his team-mates are steeled for the business end of the campaign as they bid to nail down a place in the Champions League.

He added: "We are in the last stage of the Premier League, with eight crucial games to determine where we will finally stand in the table.

SACKED: David Moyes

"Personally, I think setting our goals game after game is the right thing to do, trying to win as many of them as possible and keeping the momentum after the wins over Tottenham and Liverpool."

"I check the calendar and I see four big games for us in April – Aston Villa, Manchester City, Chelsea and Everton."

"All of them are big clubs and we want to show that we can beat them, getting close to our goal and also making our fans happy."

INJURY PROBLEMS: Jack Wilshere

Jack urged to Czech out Euro finals with England young guns

By IAN WINROW

JACK WILSHERE has been told he should go to the European Under-21 Championships with England this summer.

The Arsenal midfielder has been battling to overcome a succession of injuries that prevented him featuring in Roy Hodgson's senior squad for the back-to-back clashes with Lithuania and Italy.

But Wilshere is still eligible to feature for Gareth Southgate's Under-21 side.

And Gunners legend David Seaman believes a stint with the juniors at the Euro finals in the Czech Republic will help Wilshere win his fitness battle.

The former England keeper said: "I'd like to see Jack go."

"He has not played a lot of football this season and, if he is fit, he should go."

That would be a major boost for Southgate, who wants to take the strongest possible squad.

But Arsenal boss Arsene Wenger may prefer Wilshere to stay at home and hit the ground running next season.

Limited

The Gunners are confident of landing Palermo's £30million-rated forward Paulo Dybala.

Palermo president Maurizio Zamparini has admitted he intends to sell the Argentinian at the end of the season.

Manchester United and Juventus are also keen on the 21-year-old, who has netted 12 times in 27 games so far this season in Italy.

Wenger has already

TARGET Paulo Dybala

made his mind up on the player and will pull out all the stops to bring him to London.

Zamparini said: "It is clear Paulo will leave. We are looking for another striker."

Wenger is also exploring a deal to bring Barcelona star Pedro to the Emirates Stadium.

The Spain wide-man's contract is set to expire next year and he has been getting limited game time this term.

His agent, Antonio Sanz, said: "Pedro wants to stay, but it depends on what the club decides."

VLAAR'S VILLA THRILLER

SKIPPER Ron Vlaar has handed Aston Villa a major boost by declaring himself fit to face Manchester United this weekend.

The Holland defender has not played since Tim Sherwood's first Villa match in charge against Stoke – when his error gifted the Potters a last-gasp penalty winner.

Vlaar said: "Injuries have happened to me a few times this season and the feeling I have now is I'm as happy as a child to be honest. I feel good now and that's the most important thing for me."

CESC FABREGAS has shrugged off concerns about his form by insisting he's having the time of his life at Chelsea.

The midfielder's performances have been placed under the spotlight since the turn of the year. Fabregas, 27, made a stunning start to life at Stamford Bridge following his switch from Barcelona last summer.

The Spain international struck up an immediate understanding with Diego Costa and established himself as the king of the assists in the Premier League.

But he has gone off the boil in recent weeks as Chelsea exited the Champions League.

However, the former Arsenal man (right) insists he's happy with the way the campaign is going and is targeting the title after already landing the Capital One Cup with the Blues.

Fabregas said: "I'm going through a great moment so I have no reason not to be happy. I enjoy everything that happens to me."

"I'm practically playing every minute for my team and that's what makes me happy."

"To be important is fundamental. Now we have to fight hard for the league title to end a great year."
